

Best regards syndicals No 11 SEPT 2015

What could the Staff Cttee do for colleagues suffering of non-recognised serious illness...

Use its own budget resources to cover the expensive costs for therapy not reimbursed by our insurance scheme!

SOCRATES (470 - 399 BC)

"All I know is that I know nothing"
«Εν οίδα ὅτι οὐδέν οίδα»

When the oracle of Delphi was consulted whether there was any man wiser than Socrates, the Pythian prophethess replied that no one was wiser! Socrates could not understand what did God mean? He resolved to search out, so he went to met some wise men among politicians, poets and manual artisans...He soon discovered that "because he performed his art nobly, each one deemed himself wisest also in the other things, the greatest things- and this discordant note of theirs seemed to hide that wisdom" "I am wiser than this human being. For probably neither of us knows anything noble and good, but he supposes he knows something when he does not know, while I, just as I do not know, do not even suppose that I do."

HARASSMENT & GROUP DYNAMICS

"Just like in the office, they may recruit allies to do the harassment. These allies take turns manipulating and spreading rumours and lies about you ..."

goodmenproject.com

"...One way to understand the insidious nature of this abuse is to consider the example of workplace bullying. Initially one person decides to psychologically terrorize you at work. Let's say that person talks to one or two others and convinces them that you deserve to be harassed. The three of them tell others and perhaps up to 10 people are primed to be against you. Your attempts to inform management or H.R. are blocked by the people who instigated the abuse. At worse the three original bullies will get allies to do the day to day sabotaging of your work performance.

The worst of these is when abusers use a range of tactics to discredit the victim. These include cyber bullying, hacking, stalking or speaking character defaming lies. Leaving your job may be an effective way to stop the bullying. However, the bullies may then decide to target you outside of work. Just like in the office, they may recruit allies to do the harassment. These allies take turns manipulating and spreading rumours and lies about you; informing others that «there s something wrong with you»

Sometimes those joining in on the abuse have no idea why they re doing it. According to author Lynn Stuter "people involved in gang-stalking display a common trait of needing to feel that they have power over the target even though they may not know that person. Group dynamics, how individuals interact in a group, a general need of an individual for human contact and interaction, play a key role in the structure of gang-stalking."

AWARENESS CAN LEAD TO HEALTHY WORK ENVIRONMENT!

Dates with the European History

May 1952 - 1954 -the abortive attempt-
Treaty of European Defense Community

RESOLVED to contribute to the maintenance of peace, particularly by ensuring the defense of Western Europe against any aggression, in cooperation with the free nations, in the spirit of the United Nations Charter, and in close liaison with organizations having the same purpose;

CONSIDERING that as complete an integration a possible, compatible with military requirements, of the human and material elements gathered in their Defense Forces within a supranational European organization is the most appropriate means of reaching this goal with all the necessary rapidity and effectiveness;

CERTAIN that such integration will result in the most rational and economic utilization of the resources of their countries, as a result, particularly, of the establishment of a common budget and of common armament programs;

DETERMINED to ensure in this way the development of their military power without prejudicing social progress;

DESIROUS to safeguard the spiritual and moral val...

MEN / WOMEN : Anima, Animus

«The best offer» by Giuseppe Tornatore

Some found the film as «one of the best offers of 2013 cinema», «a masterpiece of international cinema». Others saw a «hitchcockian mystery wrapped in a love story». The Grouped'Etudes Jung of Paris considered it as a wonderful example of the fascination that anima* exerts for men...

«I will not do business with a silly, superficial phantom» shouts Virgil Oldman to the feminine voice into his phone... A world-class auctioneer and antiques expert imprisoned in an obsessive lifestyle and fearing women's look is asked to evaluate an inheritance. His passion for hidden treasures will lead him to the house of a locked young woman... Away from his antechamber with the frozen female looks he gets into a discussion with his anima ... He speaks to her through a closed door, getting more and more fascinated by Clare...

«So you believe time can make any kind of cohabitation possible? - Tell your friend to stay calm cause time is already working on their gearboxes». Robert, his young technical advisor, assembling a clockwork robot automaton reassures Virgil: «The pieces are attracting each other»...
«Are you on your own, Sir? -No, I am waiting for someone...»

* Anima: unconscious female aspect of the male psyche, which needs to be developed or made conscious, to maintain a balanced connection to the world. The Anima in a man, Jung maintained, is a mostly personal image of Woman within the psyche which each man carries with him through life. This image, or inner psychic reality, is a composition of a man's experiences of femininity from childhood on, which is combined also with ancestral and archaic collective impressions of femininity.

Once the anima is incorporated, she brings the attributes of feelings, emotions, tenderness, relatedness, commitment and fidelity, friendship, love and compassion, imagination, gentleness, romance, creativity, intuition and a sense of aesthetics.

Jung stated that there are four stages in the development of man's relationship with the anima. The first (represented by Eve) is purely instinctual and biological; the second (Helen of Troy) is a romantic and aesthetic one; the third (Virgin Mary) it shows the possibility of deep self giving and the birth of intuition while the fourth one (Sophia) leads to a new form of wisdom in man.